Ensign Corporation is pleased to announce our newly designed website. Visit Ensign Corporation's website at www.ensigncorp.com. Our new website design is mobile friendly, the same website design seen on your desktop will be seen on your mobile device and tablet.

The screenshot shows the Ensign Corporation website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Ensign logo, a search bar, and a 'Download Product Catalog' button. Below the navigation bar is a grid of product categories with images and labels: PCB Mount Transformers, Low Profile PCB Mount Transformers, Chassis Mount Transformers With Terminals, Chassis Mount Transformers With Leads, International Transformers, Encapsulated Transformers, Lighting Transformers, and High Frequency Transformers. The main content area is divided into three columns: 'Standard Products' (listing classes like Captain Class, Navigator Class, Commodore Class, Commander Class, and Admiral Class), 'Why Ensign' (listing benefits like ease of doing business, ISO 9001 certification, energy efficiency, flame retardant material, custom design, and on-time delivery), and 'Custom Design' (describing the custom or pre-engineered design process). Below these columns is an 'About Ensign' section with a 'Read More' button. The footer contains a navigation menu, copyright information, and social media icons.
